William T. Miedel

Associate

William Miedel brings extensive experience in helping clients navigate the complexities of mass tort litigation, especially in products liability matters.

Regularly serving as a critical piece in local, regional and national teams, Mr. Miedel executes on document discovery, expert testimony development, depositions and motions strategies beneficial to our clients in achieving a successful resolution. He helps develop aggressive, innovative options aimed to protect our clients' interests, regardless of the jurisdiction where litigation or potential litigation might be venued.

Mr. Miedel works on mass tort matters from inception to trial and through appeal, when necessary, and has represented industrial equipment manufacturers, automotive manufacturers, automotive component manufacturers, and contractors, among others. However, he understands the value of providing counsel aimed at avoiding costly and unnecessary litigation based on the potential legal and financial exposure unique to each specific case.

In addition, Mr. Miedel offers clients previous experience with commercial litigation defense.
