Robert B. Kress, Jr.

Associate

Robert Kress brings extensive experience in all phases of product liability and associated litigation, including mass torts and class actions. His record handling a wide variety of matters across multiple industries includes trying cases to verdict, conducting and defending depositions and drafting and arguing dispositive motions.

With a noted focus on analyzing the unique merits of each case, Mr. Kress effectively advocates for his clients' best interests in an effort to provide a favorable resolution at the earliest opportunity. He cultivates, maintains and develops relationships with clients as a trusted advocate with unwavering dedication to their business interests and objectives.

Since entering into private practice, Mr. Kress has successfully navigated complex legal issues in personal injury, commercial litigation, employment, family and estate matters.

Mr. Kress earned his Juris Doctor from Rutgers Law School after completing his undergraduate studies at Ramapo College of New Jersey. While in law school, he interned for the Hon. Ellen Koblitiz in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division, Hudson County.
